our story

Jon & Ashley

Dear Birth Mother,

We are writing to you with hearts full of love and gratitude for the opportunity to potentially welcome your child into our family. We want to express our deep appreciation for the selfless decision you are considering and assure you that we will provide a safe, loving, and nurturing home for your precious gift. Blessing a family with the precious gift of a child is the most generous and selfless act of love that you could ever give.

Children hold a special place in our hearts, as we have experienced the incredible joy of adoption firsthand. Our son, whom we adopted 11 years ago, has brought immeasurable happiness and fulfillment into our lives. We believe that children are truly a gift from God, each one a unique blessing who enriches our world with their presence.

As you consider entrusting us with the care of your child, we hope that reading about us and looking at pictures will give you a glimpse into the love and warmth that awaits them in our home. We understand the weight of this decision and want you to know that we approach it with humility, reverence, and unwavering commitment.

We appreciate you,

Jon & Ashley

We have been married going on 17 amazing years. Our faith in God has always been the center of our lives, guiding us through both joyful moments and challenging times.

We were blessed 10 years ago with the birth of our son, Cayden, whom we adopted. He is kindhearted, compassionate, and full of energy.

As parents, we will continue to provide a nurturing environment where Cayden and your child can thrive emotionally, intellectually, and spiritually. We believe that every child is a gift from above, and we are eager to open our hearts and home to another son or daughter.

This is us...

We have built a solid foundation through hard work and careful planning. Our resources allow us to provide for all the needs of our children while ensuring they have access to opportunities that will help them succeed in life. Our commitment to our children's growth extends beyond traditional education, as Ashley is a dedicated stay-at-home mom who homeschools Cayden with love and enthusiasm.

Our home is filled with laughter, silliness, love, and security. We cherish family traditions like game nights, cooking together, movie marathons, snuggling on the couch, and celebrating holidays surrounded by family and friends.

One of our greatest passions is traveling in our camper or going to the beach. Exploring new places, embracing different cultures, and creating lasting memories as a family brings immense joy. Whether it's camping by the beach or hiking through breathtaking mountains, we find solace in nature's beauty and serenity.

You will often find Ashley and Cayden swimming, especially in the summer. They also love to go bowling to blow off steam after school is finished for the day. They will even adventure to Dunkin Donuts or Chick-Fil-A to work on school, or it might be the good food or snacks.

I cannot wait to see Ashley extend her boundless love to another child. Her nututing nature, unwavering faith, and adventurous spirit makes her an incredible mom.

Ashley's faith gives her solace and strength and allows her to give unwavering love and support to those around her. As a selfless and compassionate person, Ashley goes above and beyond to ensure that everyone's needs are met before her own.

Adventurous by nature, Ashley loves to take spontaneous trips. Whether it's a weekend getaway or a day trip exploring new places nearby, she thrives on creating memorable experiences for our family. Her adventurous spirit adds excitement and spontaneity to our lives, making every moment special..

About Ashley

My wife Ashley is a remarkable individual who embodies the values of hard work, dedication, and compassion. Growing up in a Baptist church as the daughter of a preacher, she has always had a strong faith that guides her actions and decisions. As one of her close friends remarked, "Ashley's commitment to her beliefs shines through in everything she does." When our son began facing challenges in school, Ashley made the selfless decision to leave her job and homeschool him, demonstrating her unwavering devotion to our family's well-being.

In addition to being a devoted mother and wife, Ashley is also pursuing higher education by working towards a bachelor's degree. Her determination to further her knowledge and skills is truly inspiring. One of her colleagues shared, "Ashley's drive for personal growth is evident in all aspects of her life." Despite her busy schedule, she still finds time to care for her 92-year-old grandmother and actively engage with her church community. The decision to adopt when faced with infertility only reaffirmed Ashley's nurturing spirit and deep love for children. As another friend mentioned, "Ashley's capacity for love knows no bounds."

Meet my Husband

I am thrilled to introduce you to my husband, Jon. He possess all the qualities that make an exceptional partner and father. With his humorous personality, caring nature, strong work ethic, spontaneity, and faithfulness to God, he is an amazing role model for our son. I cannot wait to see him share these qualities with another child.

One of the most remarkable things about Jon is his sense of humor. He has an uncanny ability to bring laughter into any situation and always knows how to put a smile on our faces. His lighthearted approach to life creates a warm and joyful atmosphere in our home. I could be having the worst day, but the minute he walks in the door, the jokes and his "amazing" dancing starts. I am laughing withing five minutes.

Jon is a true kid at heart who always knows how to make our son laugh and smile. When we decided that we needed to homeschool Cayden, he didn't think twice about it. He works so hard so that we can accomplish this.

He is patient, kind, and loving, always putting our son's needs above his own. I have no doubt that he will extend this same love and devotion to any child we are fortunate enough to bring into our family through adoption.

Jon's faith plays a significant role in our family life. He strives to live by strong moral values and teaches Cayden the importance of faith, kindness, and counting your blessings.

Jon loves reading; something that he wasn't too keen on growing up. He has instilled the joy of reading into Cayden, and I hope he carries this love as he grows. He also loves to cook; I would put his cooking skills up against anyone. My most favorite thing he has fixed has been his chicken hibachi and lemon pepper salmon.

Gaming and watching college football are bonding activities that Jon and Cayden enjoy sharing together. Their enthusiasm fills the room as they cheer on the Tennessee Volunteers. Witnessing their bond grown stronger through these interests brings delight to my heart.

About Jon

Our Son Cayden

Cayden has a great sense of humor that can light up a room. He has an infectious laughter that brings joy to everyone around him. He is incredibly loving and has a heart of gold. He will go out of his way to make others feel special and loved. When we go to a restaurant, Cayden will always hold the door for someone or help an elder carry their bags if he sees they need help. He will hold your hand during a prayer and look up at you and for no reason at all say, "I Love You."

As a gamer, Cayden enjoys exploring virtual worlds and connecting with friends online. He cultivates problem-solving skills, teamwork, and perseverance.

Cayden cannot wait to become a big brother! His nurturing nature combined with his natural ability to connect with children makes us confident that he will be an incredible sibling. He has been eagerly preparing himself for this role, expressing excitement to everyone he meets.

Family Pets

We have two Morkie dogs; Cookie and Coco, that have been a great addition to our family. They are goofy, funny, and very sweet. They will sleep with you all night and wait by the door until you come home.

Cayden is their best friend and it shows as they are three peas in a pod. We know he looks forward to introducing a new baby brother or sister to them.

Cookie and Coco love to be outside on the back porch when we do school. They love to bask in the sun and will lay in front of the fan and let it blow their hair. They are the most loving "man's best friend" and they will love this new baby so much.

Our Home

We live in a quaint little country town in Georgia. We have around 25 acres of land to ride four-wheelers or hike trails. We see deer walking through our yard every day. We may live in the country, but we are close to many shops, grocery stores, and medical offices. We live in Jon's grandfather's home that he built himself. After he passed away, we moved into the house so that we could keep it in the family. We have so many wonderful memories in this wonderful faith filled house.

Ashley's Family

Ashley's mom and dad. They are called Ma and Papa by the grandkids. They are so excited to welcome a new little one into the family.

Ashley's brother and her sister-in-law. They are just as excited as we are about welcoming a new baby into the family.

Ashley's grandma who is 92 years young. She cannot wait to spoil another great-grandbaby.

Our Hometown

We have a great community with so many family-friendly events. We have a First Friday that consists of concerts, vendors, a kid zone, and yummy food trucks. We also have a Screen on the Green with sports games on the big screen or movie nights. Our town has a major river that flows through where you can tube or kayak. We have a yearly "Riverfest" that helps underprivileged kids in our community.

We wanted to take a moment to express our deepest gratitude for considering us as the potential family for your precious baby. We are humbled and honored by your thoughtful consideration.

Thank you for taking the time to look through our photos and for allowing us the opportunity to share a little something about ourselves, our values, and our dreams of becoming parents to another child. It means the world to us that you took the time to learn more who we are and what kind of family environment we can provide to your child.

We deeply appreciate the opportunity to be part of your adoption journey. We are committed to providing a loving and nurturing environment where your child can thrive.

Please know that whatever path you choose, we wish you love, strength, and peace. Your courage is truly inspiring and we respect any decision you make.

Thank You!
